

Banana Peels and Climate Change:
A Daily Examen for Creation Care

Are you interested in Climate Change?
Do you care about the Earth?

And, what about Banana Peels?

Come find out.

Philip Sakimoto, Ph.D., University of Notre Dame, Astrophysicist, and former Acting Director of NASA's Space Science Education Public Outreach Program, and Sister Damien Marie Savino, FSE, Ph.D., Dean of Science and Sustainability, Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, Michigan, and will present their response to Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si': Care for our Common Home. Their presentation addresses climate change in light of science and faith and suggests practical steps to increase our personal caring for creation.
