Raising Responsible and Cooperative Children

is a two-session parenting workshop designed for parents (with children, ages 13 and under) to sharpen their abilities to communicate with their children and to develop effective discipline. Discussions will target specific parenting strategies to improve a child's ability to cooperate and act responsibly while enhancing family relationships.

Workshop Discussion Topics include:

- Using effective communication styles
- Setting effective limits on behavior
- Balancing warmth and firmness
- Blending positive/negative consequences
- Controlling anger
- Responding to whining
- Avoiding power struggles and having "buttons" pushed

Facilitator

This program is facilitated by Dr. Thomas Finn, a licensed clinical psychologist who has been on staff at the Franciscan Life Center for over 40 years.
